

Pick a Fight With Yourself.

Has it ever occurred to you that your own worst enemy is yourself? That your own self is the most subtle, and hardest of all to conquer? Stand up like a man and fight your own weakness—those weaknesses which are holding you down. Grab those habits which are keeping you down, and choke the life out of them. Away up in front the band is playing loud. You can't hear it because you are so near the tail end of the procession. You are getting all the dust there. Get up in front—get in the limelight—don't drag along and cry "tough luck." It isn't "tough luck," you know it isn't. It's that self of yours. Bad luck never held any good man down—and it never will. The good in a man will come to the surface, and when he has taken a determined stand, when he has resolved that he will be master of self, then he can catch the pace, and get up in front.—Tampa Tribune.

General Robert E. Lee

was the greatest General the world has ever known. Ballard's Snow Liniment is the greatest Liniment. Quickly cures all pains. It is within the reach of all. T. H. I am never without it." Sold by all druggists.

LETTER TO JULIUS BALL.

Tallahassee, Fla.

Dear Sir: Our agent ought to sell nine-tenths of the paint of his town and region; no use to try for the other tenth. The proportion of men, who won't take good advice, and use the least-gallons paint, is about one in ten among even owners of houses and stores and shops and barns and fences.

One man in ten will buy a gold brick or green goods, if he has the money and gets a good chance.

Devoe at $1.75 a gallon is better than gold; adulterated and short-measure paints are green goods and gold bricks.

Devoe saves half, more or less, of the labor and wages of painting; it is all paint; full strength and full measure. There is no other such paint within ten per cent. Ten per cent of labor and paint is worth saving; and ten is the least. There are scores of paints that throw-away half of both gallons and labor on whitening, china-clay, groundstone, barytes, benzine, water—all they are good for is to make gallons of nothing and look like paint in the can; more gallons to buy and more gallons to pay for putting-on—gold bricks and green goods. Here's how they work.

Judge I. D. Fairchild owns two houses exactly alike in Lufkin, Texas. J. H. Torrence painted both houses; one Devoe, 15½ gallons; the other with another paint sold at same price; 25 gallons. That 25 gallon paint is weak and 15 per cent whitening; that's why it took 9½ gallons more.

Yours truly,

F. W. DEVOE & Co.,
New York.

Plotting for Power.

Broward's drainage scheme is merely the latest of a series of desperate efforts to build up a political machine to put in power a little band of demagogues who hope thereby to perpetuate themselves in office and fatten off the State.

Some years ago they made as desperate an attempt to fasten the iniquitous dispensary system upon Florida, taking their cue from South Carolina. They tried to disguise it as a temperance measure so as to rally the temperance people of the State to its support, but the temperance people of Florida are sober and clear headed and they would have none of it. Results in South Carolina prove their wisdom.

Failing in their dispensary scheme, they rested awhile until they could hatch out something new. They found it in the proposed scheme to enter the State into the insurance business, which was sprung at the session of the Legislature of 1905. It was an inviting proposition, promising the people absolute insurance protection at small cost, at a time, too, when insurance companies were under fire and the people were ready for any sort of change. But it, too, failed. The clear thinking people of Florida saw the danger, and they brought pressure to bear to stop the passage of the bill.

Then this drainage scheme was sprung. It is a kitten of the same progenitors. The proposed amendment to the constitution creates the machine as a drainage board, giving it unlimited power and putting it out of reach of legislative inquisition.

If the people of Florida should by any chance approve this amendment by their votes, they would soon see their mistake, for, with power, the little band would become bold. Their greed would get the best of them. There would not be enough pickings in the drainage scheme, and the dispensary and State insurance would soon follow.

Is Florida to be prostituted to a carnival of graft?

Will the conservative voters of Florida permit any such condition of affairs?

If they would prevent it, they must be up and doing. That iniquitous constitutional amendment cannot be defeated by sitting quietly at home. Get out and tell your friends of the danger, and see that they go to the polls and vote against it.—Times-Union.

Buying a Paper.

"Here, boy, let me have a paper."
"Can't."
"Why not? I heard you crying them loud enough to be heard at the city hall."
"Yes, but that was down 'tother block, ye know, where I hollered."
"What does that matter? Come, now, no fooling. 'I'm in a hurry."
"Couldn't sell you a paper on this here block, mister, 'cos it b'longs to Limpy. He's just up the furthest end now; you'll meet him."
"And who is Limpy? And why does he have this block?"
"Cos' us other kids agreed to let him have it. Ye see it's a good run, 'count of the officers all along, and the poor chap is that lame he can't git around lively like the rest of us, so we agreed that the first one caught sellin' on his beat should be thrashed. See?"
"Yes, I see. You have a sort of brotherhood among yourselves?"
"Well, we're going to look out for a little cove what's lame, anyhow."
"There comes Limpy now. He's a fortunate boy to have such friends."
The gentleman bought two papers of him, and went on his way down town wondering how many men in business would refuse to sell their wares in order to give a weak, halting brother a chance in the field.—Exchange.
